

Black Girl Joy

ABOUT ME

As a Black woman, I have come to deal with the struggles of feeling lost without a community, the pressure of finding affordable housing and the difficulty for the search of resources, I am dedicated to making Middlesex University a joyful place to be.

The Mission

- The promise of an improved community for Black Women at MDX
- Housing Crisis support for all students especially 1st and 3rd year students starting their new living journey
- Opportunity for Middlesex resources to become more accessible for students
- Cleaner facilities, this includes the bathrooms and the Prayer rooms for all students who rely on a healthy and safe environment

“Let your joy be in your journey—not in some distant goal.”
