

HOW TO DEBATE... AND WIN!

P Point
E Evidence
E Explain
L Link

STRUCTURE

Structuring the points you want to make in a debate will not only allow you to make sure you cover everything, but helps give you confidence and gives your points strength and ease of understanding.

SELL THE POINT

Much of a debate is won by how you sell your side! Evidence is key to demonstrating the importance of your points and being a trustworthy and confident speaker will give you a big advantage.

C Credibility
A Anecdotes
F Facts & Stats
E Enthusiasm

P Point
O Opposition
U Unravel
R Rebuttal

ONE STEP AHEAD

Taking some time to prepare for what you may face before a debate can leave you in control of the conversation. Getting into the opposing perspective and having ready explanations for why your side is stronger, leaves you with the power.